Do you live in Kent, Surrey or Sussex?

Your local Learning Disability Community of Practice are running a conference on Thursday 15 June in the Charis Centre, Crawley.

You would be welcome to come along and join in on the day.

There will be people speaking on important issues:

- Andrew Walker of the Stay Up Late campaign will speak on ‘Planning My Support’.

- And there will be speakers from STOMP, the campaign to stop people with learning disabilities or autism having to take too much medication.

There will also be workshops - some led by 'experts by experience' - where you will hear about the work of people and organisations providing learning disability support in your area.

There will also be information stalls and posters on display.

If you are part of a group, you could run a workshop or an information stall yourself.

To find out more about the conference, running a workshop, or about the Kent, Surrey and Sussex Learning Disability Community of Practice, call Tom Evans on 07342 882 208.

To speak to someone and book a place at the conference call BILD on 0121 415 6970.
