

The South East Regional Forum

Making the world a better place for people with learning disabilities and everyone!

- The National Forum should work like this. It should start from the bottom and work to the top which it does but when it gets to the top nobody knows what the outcomes of any issues that people have said it does not come back down again. So there is a lack of communication coming from the top and not coming back down so there needs to be something sorted out there.
